He became the lead covert internet investigator within the UK as regards online activity. Jonathan continues to research and study online dangers whilst using the Internet and Apps on devices from the Mobile Phone to the Tablet, to the iPad. Jonathan also works as an Independent Child Safeguarding expert advising organisations across the world.

TUESDAY 24 May - 1800 - 1900 hrs.

The workshop is offered to allow as many parents as possible to attend. The workshop can help parents wanting to protect their child and/or teenager from the many online dangers that can exist. Our children, whatever age, vary from being the most vulnerable child and young adult, to the most resilient. Understanding where your child or teenager sits on the Spectrum of Vulnerability is the first step to knowing the level of protection required.

In detail, Jonathan will discuss with participants the description of three areas of exploitation – bullying, grooming and radicalization, and highlight what other forms of online exploitation exist. His workshop will explore the importance of parents understanding the current use of social media in relation to a child’s and young adults Online Behaviour.
